This weekend began early with yet another rager in the Capital as HT City Club Fashion Nights 2019 took place at Privee', on their Urban Expat and Model Hotel, in Shangri-La Eros Hotel. The night had it all, a fantastic fashion show, great ambience and amazing hospitality. The highlight of the night was the bombastic beats played by DJ Japs.

Among those spotted at this jamboree were designers Siddhartha Tytler, Dhruv Kapoor and Mayyur Girotra, among others.

At the glittering HT City Club Fashion Night 2019, Cantabil — known for its finest fabrics — showcased clubwear collection, featuring slim fit designer suits, detailed and crafted to perfection.

The collection boasts of a fabulous variety of blazers, including tweed jackets, that will instantly lift your style quotient. Talking about the collection, Deepak Bansal, director, Cantabil, says, "We showcased party wear suits, tuxedos and blazers, and have redefined double-breasted suits to make it an apt choice for the fashion forward generation. We have also experimented with colours in suits and have added wine and shades of grey."

The classic range of satin, corduroy, denim, indigos and techno shirts, available in florals, abstract, geometrics and checks, will add that right zing to your outfit, along with edgy accessories like scarfs, pocket squares, tweed caps and luxe lapel pins.

The highlight of the show was women wear club collection. One can choose from the varied range of flowy dresses, ruffled hems, draped color-blocked and solid body cons, made to slay the fashion scene.

Pick from their widest range of dramatic shawl on shawl, three-piece suit, tuxedo and mix and match concepts; and notch and peak lapel suits, paired with finest details, along with jacquards blazers.

The evolution of streetwear was showcased by designer Abhishek Paatni at the high-powered HT City Club Fashion Nights 2019 at Privee', Shangri-La Eros Hotel.

Inspired by the youth culture, Paatni's collection was a quirky take on conventional clothing. It had technical shirts, teamed with joggers and utility bags. The creation was all about being more utilitarian, and catered to the urban youth. Carefree and confident, the streetwear line focussed on comfort, which the designer rightly showcased with his 18 looks.
